I have come across a few women in my life that have made impressions on my soul. These impressions are used to help mold me into the woman that God intended me to be. I call these women "My Collection". Today I welcome Ms. Tabbatha Mays to sit on the top shelf of that collection.

Who would have thought that a request for information by me would have turned into me meeting one of the people that would positively redirect and change my life forever? I am not sure if I know anyone so dedicated to making everything that she touches turn in to platinum than Ms. Mays. Average production is not good enough for her and why should it be because she is far from average. With over 1500 miles between us, I always feel as if she is right by my side. Ms. Mays has taught me that I define my present and future not the environment around me. I know because of her that I am a leader and will create an instrument that will help change the girls of today into the women of tomorrow. I also know that my existence is of the utmost importance. I should and am living everyday to the fullest by receiving and processing all of the knowledge that I can that will help to shape my future and all of the people that will follow me.

I had no idea that such a being with an internal light that shines so bright shared space with me on this earth. If I could draw her the picture would look much like the sun because of all of the light that she shines for me in the direction of success, my journey through womanhood. Ms. Mays has become not only a mentor to me but my Voice of reason, my Financial Consultant, my Business Advisor, my Fitness Coach, my Nutritionist, my Cheerleader, and most of all my Friend.

I welcome the continuation of my journey. Thank you Ms. Tabbatha Mays! Thank you Spirits Landing!
